Dear Shareholders,

This Semi-Annual Report for the PSI Funds covers the period September 1, 2008 to February, 28 2009, (the "Semi-Annual Period"). This Report covers the PSI Macro Trends Fund (the "Macro Trends Fund"), the PSI Core Strength Fund (the "Core Strength Fund") and the PSI Total Return Fund (the "Total Return Fund"). Portfolio Strategies Investment Managers, (the "Sub-Advisor"), serves as the sub-advisor to the PSI Funds. During the Semi-Annual Period, the DJ Industrial Average Index returned -38.21%, the S&P 500 Index returned -42.70% and the Nasdaq-100 Index returned -40.35%. Emerging Markets did not outpace domestic returns, with the MSCI Emerging Markets Index declining -45.22% and the 10 Year Treasury Note increasing 8.53%, on a price performance basis, for the Semi-Annual Period.

The overall returns for the Semi-Annual Period were impacted by falling energy and commodity prices, continued problems in the mortgage markets which led to a credit squeeze, and fears of a U.S. recession. The Federal Reserve Board responded with four reductions in its target for the Federal Funds Rate, resulting in a target rate of 0.25% at the end of the Semi-Annual Period, its lowest level ever.

The Core Strength Fund seeks to achieve returns equal to or better than the return of the broad U.S. stock market as measured by the S&P 500 Index over a full market cycle. The Core Strength Fund returned -15.90%, on a total return basis, during the Semi-Annual Period.

The Macro Trends Fund seeks to implement short or long strategies to achieve capital appreciation. The Macro Trends Fund returned -39.04%, on a total return basis, during the Semi-Annual Period.

The Total Return Fund seeks to exceed the total return of the Barclays Capital Aggregate Bond Index (formerly known as the Lehman U.S. Aggregate Bond Index) over a complete market cycle. The Total Return Fund returned -13.22%, on a total return basis, during the Semi-Annual Period, compared to 1.88% for the Barclays Capital Aggregate Bond Index.

As always, we thank you for using the Direxion Funds and we look forward to our mutual success.

Best Regards,

Expense Example

February 28, 2009 (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of a mutual fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on purchase payments, reinvested dividends, or other distributions; redemption fees; and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution and/or service fees; and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held the entire period (September 1, 2008 — February 28, 2009).

Actual Expenses

The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. Although the Fund charges no sales load or transactions fees, you will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers, returned checks or stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC, the Funds' transfer agent. If you request a redemption be made by wire transfer, currently a $15.00 fee is charged by the Funds' transfer agent. However, the example below does not include portfolio trading commissions and related expenses or other extraordinary expenses as determined under generally accepted accounting principles. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Funds' actual expense ratios and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Funds' actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Funds and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as wire transfers, returned checks or stop payment orders. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

² Not annualized

³ Net investment income (loss) per share represents net investment income (loss) divided by the daily average shares of beneficial interest outstanding throughout each period.

⁴ The amounts shown may not correlate with aggregate gains and losses of portfolio securities due to timing of subscriptions and redemptions of Fund shares.

⁵ All returns reflect reinvested dividends, if any, but do not reflect the impact of taxes.

⁷ Net investment income (loss) ratio included dividends on short positions. The ratio excluding dividends on short positions for the period ended August 31, 2005 was 0.83%.

⁸ Commencement of operations.

Expense Example

February 28, 2009 (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of a mutual fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on purchase payments, reinvested dividends, or other distributions; redemption fees; and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution and/or service fees; and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held the entire period (September 1, 2008 — February 28, 2009).

Actual Expenses

The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. Although the Fund charges no sales load or transactions fees, you will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers, returned checks or stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC, the Funds' transfer agent. If you request a redemption be made by wire transfer, currently a $15.00 fee is charged by the Funds' transfer agent. However, the example below does not include portfolio trading commissions and related expenses or other extraordinary expenses as determined under generally accepted accounting principles. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Funds' actual expense ratios and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Funds' actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Funds and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as wire transfers, returned checks or stop payment orders. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

² Not annualized

³ Net investment income (loss) per share represents net investment income (loss) divided by the daily average shares of beneficial interest outstanding throughout each period.

⁴ The amounts shown may not correlate with aggregate gains and losses of portfolio securities due to timing of subscriptions and redemptions of Fund shares.

⁵ All returns reflect reinvested dividends, if any, but do not reflect the impact of taxes.

⁶ Portfolio turnover is calculated without regard to short-term securities having a maturity of less than one year. Investments in options, swaps, and futures contracts and repurchase agreements are deemed short-term securities. The Fund's aggressive investment strategy may result in significant portfolio turnover to take advantage of anticipated changes in market conditions.

Expense Example

February 28, 2009 (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of a mutual fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on purchase payments, reinvested dividends, or other distributions; redemption fees; and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution and/or service fees; and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held the entire period September 1, 2008 — February 28, 2009).

Actual Expenses

The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. Although the Fund charges no sales load or transactions fees, you will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers, returned checks or stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC, the Funds' transfer agent. If you request a redemption be made by wire transfer, currently a $15.00 fee is charged by the Funds' transfer agent. However, the example below does not include portfolio trading commissions and related expenses or other extraordinary expenses as determined under generally accepted accounting principles. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Funds' actual expense ratios and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Funds' actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Funds and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as wire transfers, returned checks or stop payment orders. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

² Not annualized.

³ Net investment income (loss) per share represents net investment income (loss) divided by the daily average shares of beneficial interest outstanding throughout each period.

⁴ The amounts shown may not correlate with aggregate gains and losses of portfolio securities due to timing of subscriptions and redemptions of Fund shares.

⁵ All returns reflect reinvested dividends, if any, but do not reflect the impact of taxes.

⁷ Net investment income (loss) before dividends on short positions for the period ended August 31, 2005 was $(0.04).

⁸ Net investment income (loss) ratio included dividends on short positions. The ratio excluding dividends on short positions for the period ended August 31, 2005 was (0.15%).

Direxion Funds
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
February 28, 2009

1. ORGANIZATION

Direxion Funds (the "Trust") was organized as a Massachusetts Business Trust on June 6, 1997 and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), as an open-end management investment company issuing its shares in series, each series representing a distinct portfolio with its own investment objective and policies. The Trust currently has 40 series of which 7 are included in this report, HCM Freedom Fund, PSI Core Strength Fund, PSI Macro Trends Fund, PSI Total Return Fund, Spectrum Select Alternative Fund (formerly Spectrum High Yield Plus Fund), Spectrum Global Perspective Fund and Spectrum Equity Opportunity Fund (each a "Fund" and collectively, the "Funds"). Each Fund is a "non-diversified" series of the Trust pursuant to the 1940 Act. The PSI Core Strength Fund, the PSI Macro Trends Fund and the PSI Total Return Fund commenced operations on January 8, 2007.

The objective of the HCM Freedom Fund is to seek long-term capital appreciation with lower volatility than the overall market by investing in equity securities of domestic issuers, equity securities of foreign issuers, whether directly or indirectly through sponsored or unsponsored American Depository Receipts (ADRs), exchange traded funds (ETFs), other investment companies and foreign currencies. The objective of the PSI Core Strength Fund is to seek returns equal to or better than the return of the broad U.S. stock market as measured by the S&P 500[®] Fund over a full market cycle. The PSI Macro Trends Fund seeks to implement short or long strategies to achieve capital appreciation. The PSI Total Return Fund seeks income plus capital appreciation. The objective of the Spectrum Select Alternative Fund is to seek income and capital appreciation on a total return basis by investing primarily in high yield fixed-income securities, either directly or indirectly through exchange-traded funds (ETFs), other investment companies and derivative instruments. The Spectrum Global Perspective Fund seeks income and capital appreciation by investing in equity securities of foreign issuers either directly or indirectly through American Depository Receipts (ADRs), ETFs, foreign currencies, other investment companies and derivative instruments. The Spectrum Equity Opportunity Fund seeks income and capital appreciation by investing either directly in securities of domestic and foreign issuers or indirectly through ADRs, ETFs, other investment companies and derivative instruments.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Funds in the preparation of their financial statements. These policies are in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP").

a) Investment Valuation – The Net Asset Value ("NAV") of each Fund is determined daily, Monday through Friday, as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE"), each day the NYSE is open for business. The value of all portfolio securities and other assets held by a Fund will be determined as of the time a Fund calculates its NAV, 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time ("Valuation Time"). Equity securities and exchange-traded funds are valued at their last sales price, or if not available, at the average of the last bid and ask prices. Futures are valued at the settlement price established on the exchange on which they are traded, if that settlement price reflects trading prior to the Valuation Time. If the settlement price established by the exchange reflects trading after the Valuation Time, then the last sales price prior to Valuation Time will be used. Options are valued at the composite price, using the National Best Bid and Offer quotes ("NBBO"). NBBO consists of the highest bid price and lowest ask price across any of the exchanges on which an option is quoted. Specifically, composite pricing looks at the last trades on the exchanges where the options are traded. If there are no trades for the option on a given business day, the composite pricing calculates the mean of the highest bid and lowest ask price across the exchanges where the option is traded. Over-the-counter ("OTC") securities are valued at the average of the last bid and ask prices. Securities primarily traded on the NASDAQ National Market are valued using the NASDAQ Official Closing Price ("NOCP"). Investments in open-end mutual funds are valued at their respective net asset values on the valuation dates. Swaps are valued based upon prices from third party vendor models or quotations from market makers to the extent available. Short-term debt securities with a maturity of 60 days or less and money market securities are valued using the amortized cost method. Other debt securities are valued by using the mean prices provided by the Fund's pricing service or, if such services are unavailable, by a pricing matrix method. Securities for which reliable market quotations are not readily available, the Funds' pricing service does not provide a valuation for such securities, the Fund's pricing service provides valuation that in the judgment of Rafferty Asset Managements, LLC (the “Adviser”) does not represent fair value, or the Fund or Adviser believes the market price is stale, will in each case be fair valued as determined by the Adviser under the supervision of the Board of Trustees.

b) Repurchase Agreements – Each Fund may enter into repurchase agreements with institutions that are members of the Federal Reserve System or securities dealers who are members of a national securities exchange or are primary dealers in U.S. government securities. In connection with transactions in repurchase agreements, it is the Trust’s policy that the Fund receives, as collateral, cash and/or securities (primarily U.S. government securities) whose market value, including accrued interest, will at all times be at least equal to 100% of the amount invested by the Fund in each repurchase agreement. If the seller defaults, and the value of the collateral declines, recovery on the collateral by the Fund may be delayed or limited.

c) Swap Contracts – Each Fund may enter into equity swap contracts. Standard equity swap contracts are between two parties that agree to exchange the returns (or differentials in rates of returns) earned or realized on particular predetermined investments or instruments. The gross amount to be exchanged is calculated with respect to a “notional amount” (i.e. the return on or increase in value of a particular dollar amount invested in a “basket” of securities representing a particular index or industry sector). The Fund’s obligations are accrued daily (offset by any amounts owed to the Funds.)

In a “long” swap agreement, the counterparty will generally agree to pay the Fund the amount, if any, by which the notional amount the swap contract would have increased in value if the Fund had been invested in the particular securities, plus dividends that would have been received on those securities. The Fund will agree to pay the counterparty a floating rate of interest on the notional amount of the swap contract plus the amount, if any, by which the notional amount would have decreased in value had it been invested in such securities plus, in certain instances, commissions or trading spreads on the notional amounts. Thus, the return on the swap contract should be the gain or loss on the notional amount plus dividends on the securities less the interest paid by the Fund on the notional amount. Payments may be made at the conclusion of the contract or periodically during its term. Swap contracts do not include the delivery of securities. The net amount of the excess, if any, of the Fund’s obligations over its entitlement with respect to each swap is accrued on a daily basis and an amount of cash or liquid assets, having an aggregate net asset value at least equal to such accrued excess is maintained in a segregated account by the Fund’s custodian. Until a swap contract is settled in cash, the gain or loss on the notional amount plus dividends on the securities less the interest paid by the Fund on the notional amount are recorded as “unrealized gains or losses on swaps and futures” and when cash is exchanged, the gain or loss is recorded as “realized gains or losses on swaps and futures”. Swap contracts are collateralized by the securities and cash of each particular Fund.

Each Fund may enter into swap contracts that provide the opposite return of the particular benchmark or security (“short” the index or security). The operations are similar to that of the swaps disclosed above except that the counterparty pays interest to the Fund on the notional amount outstanding and the dividends on the underlying securities reduce the return on the swap. Also, as with “long” swap agreements, in certain instances, the Fund will agree to pay to the counterparty commissions or trading spreads on the notional amount. These amounts are netted with any unrealized appreciation or depreciation to determine the value of the swap.

The Spectrum Select Alternative Fund may enter into credit default swaps. Credit default swaps involve one party (referred to as the buyer of protection) making a stream of payments to another party (referred to as the seller of protection) in exchange for the right to receive a specified return in the event a credit event, typically a default by a corporate issuer on its debt obligation, occurs. As a seller of protection on credit default swaps, a Fund will generally receive from the buyer of protection a fixed rate of interest on the notional amount of the swap contract throughout the term of the swap provided that there is no credit event. As the seller of protection, a Fund would effectively add leverage to its portfolio because, in addition to its total assets, a Fund would be subject to investment exposure on the notional amount of the swap.

If a Fund is a seller of protection and a credit event occurs, the Fund will either (i) pay to the buyer of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and take delivery of the reference obligation or underlying securities comprising the reference index or (ii) pay a net settlement amount in the form of cash or securities equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the reference obligation or underlying securities comprising the reference index. If a Fund is a buyer of protection and a credit event occurs, the Fund will either (i) receive from the seller of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and deliver the reference obligation or underlying securities comprising the reference index or (ii) receive a net settlement amount in the form of cash or securities equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the reference obligation or underlying securities comprising the reference index. Recovery values are assumed by market makers considering either industry standard recovery rates or entity specific factors and considerations until a credit event occurs. If a credit event has occurred, the recovery value is determined by a facilitated auction whereby a minimum number of allowable broker bids, together with a specified valuation method, are used to calculate the settlement value.

Credit default swap agreements on credit indices involve one party making a stream of payments to another party in exchange for the right to receive a specified return in the event of a write-down, principal shortfall, interest shortfall or default of all or part of the referenced entities comprising the credit index. The stream of payments is recorded as an unrealized gain or loss and adjusted to include up-front payments paid or received by the Fund recorded as a component of unrealized gain or loss on swaps, and/or interest associated with the agreement until the swap is sold or expires, at which point the cumulative stream of payments is recognized as a component of realized gain or loss. A credit index consists of a basket of credit instruments or exposures designed to be representative of some part of the credit market as a whole. These indices are made up of reference credits that are judged by a poll of dealers to be the most liquid entities in the credit default swap market based on the sector of the index. Components of the indices may include, but are not limited to, investment grade securities, high yield securities, asset based securities, emerging markets, and/or various credit ratings within each sector. Credit indices are traded using credit default swaps with standardized terms including a fixed spread and standard maturity dates. An index credit default swap references all the names in the index, and if there is a default, the credit event is settled based on that name's weight in the index. The composition of the indices changes periodically, usually every six months, and for most indices, each name has an equal weight in the index. A Fund may use credit default swaps on credit indices to hedge a portfolio of credit default swaps or bonds because entering into credit default swaps on indices is less expensive than buying many credit default swaps. Credit default swaps on indices are benchmarks for protecting investors owning bonds against defaults, and traders use them to speculate on changes in credit quality of bonds.

d) Short Positions – Each Fund may engage in short sale transactions. For financial statement purposes, an amount equal to the settlement amount is included in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as an asset and an equivalent liability. The amount of the liability is subsequently marked-to-market to reflect the current value of the short position. Subsequent fluctuations in the market prices of short positions may require purchasing the securities at prices which may differ from the market value reflected on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The Fund is liable to the buyer for any dividends payable on securities while those securities are in a short position. As collateral for its short positions, the Fund is required under the 1940 Act to maintain assets consisting of cash, cash equivalents or liquid securities equal to the market value of the securities sold short. This collateral is required to be adjusted daily.

e) Stock Index Futures Contracts and Options on Futures Contracts – Each Fund may purchase and sell stock index futures contracts and options on such futures contracts. Upon entering into a contract, the Fund deposits and maintains as collateral such initial margin as required by the exchange on which the transaction is effected. Pursuant to the contract, the Fund agrees to receive from or pay to the broker an amount of cash equal to the daily fluctuation in value of the contract. Such receipts or payments are known as “variation margin” and are recorded by the Fund as unrealized gains and losses. When the contract is closed, the Fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. As collateral for futures contracts, the Fund is required under the 1940 Act to maintain assets consisting of cash, cash equivalents or liquid securities. This collateral is required to be adjusted daily to reflect the market value of the purchase obligation for long futures contracts or the market value of the instrument underlying the contract, but not less than the market price at which the futures contract was established, for short futures contracts.

f) Risks of Options, Futures Contracts, Options on Futures Contracts and Short Positions – The risks inherent in the use of options, futures contracts, options on futures contracts and short positions include 1) adverse changes in the value of such instruments; 2) imperfect correlation between the price of options and futures contracts and options thereon and movements in the price of the underlying securities, index or futures contracts; 3) the possible absence of a liquid secondary market for any particular instrument at any time; 4) the possible need to defer closing out certain positions to avoid adverse tax consequences; and 5) the possible nonperformance by the counterparty under the terms of the contract.

The Funds designate all cash, cash equivalents and liquid securities as collateral for written options, futures contracts and short positions.

g) Risks of Investing in Foreign Securities – The Spectrum Global Perspective and the Spectrum Equity Opportunity Funds may invest in foreign securities. Investments in foreign securities involve greater risks than investing in domestic securities. As a result, the Fund’s returns and net asset values may be affected to a large degree by fluctuations in currency exchange rates, political, diplomatic or economic conditions and regulatory requirements in other countries. The laws and accounting, auditing, and financial reporting standards in foreign countries may not be as strict as they are in the U.S., and there may be less public information available about foreign companies.

Investments in foreign emerging markets present a greater risk than investing in foreign issuers in general. The risk of political or social upheaval is greater in emerging markets. In addition, there may be risks of an economy’s dependence on revenues from particular commodities, currency transfer restrictions, a limited number of potential buyers for such securities and delays and disruption in securities settlement procedures.

h) Forward Currency Contracts – The Spectrum Global Perspective and Spectrum Equity Opportunity Funds may enter into forward currency exchange contracts obligating the Funds to deliver and receive currency at a specified future date. Forward contracts are valued daily, and unrealized appreciation and depreciation is recorded daily as the difference between the contract exchange rate and the closing forward rate applied to the face amount of the contract. A realized gain or loss is recorded at the time the forward contract is closed.

i) Foreign Currency Translations – The books and records of the Funds are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currency transactions are translated into U.S. dollars on the following basis: (i) market value of investment securities, assets and liabilities at the daily rates of exchange, and (ii) purchases and sales of investment securities, dividend and interest income and certain expenses at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. For financial reporting purposes, the Funds do not isolate changes in the exchange rate of investment securities from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities. However, for federal income tax purposes, the Fund does isolate and treat as ordinary income the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates on realized gain or loss from the sale of investment securities and payables and receivables arising from trade-date and settlement-date differences.

j) Security Transactions – Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date. The Funds determine the gain or loss realized from the investment transactions by comparing the identified cost, which is the same basis used for federal income tax purposes, with the net sales proceeds.

k) Federal Income Taxes – Each Fund intends to comply with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code necessary to qualify as a regulated investment company and to make the requisite distributions of income and capital gains to its shareholders sufficient to relieve it from all or substantially all federal income taxes and excise taxes.

l) Income and Expenses – Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income, including amortization of premium and discount, is recognized on an accrual basis. The Funds are charged for those expenses that are directly attributable to each series, such as Advisory fees and registration costs. Expenses that are not directly attributable to a series are generally allocated among the Trust’s series in proportion to their respective net assets.

m) Distributions to Shareholders – Each Fund generally pays dividends from net investment income and distributes net realized capital gains, if any, at least annually. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principals. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

The tax character of distributions for the Funds during the six months ended February 28, 2009 and the year ended August 31, 2008 were as follows:

The difference between book cost of investments and tax cost of investments is attributable primarily to the tax deferral of losses on wash sales.

The cost basis of investments for federal tax purposes as of February 28, 2009 was as follows:

	HCM Freedom Fund	PSI Core Strength Fund	PSI Macro Trend Fund	PSI Total Return Fund

In order to meet certain excise tax distribution requirements, the Funds are required to measure and distribute annually, net capital gains realized during a twelve-month period ending October 31st. In connection with this, the Funds are permitted for tax purposes to defer into their next fiscal year any net capital losses incurred between November 1st and the end of their fiscal year, August 31, 2008. At August 31, 2008, the following funds deferred, on a tax basis, post October losses of:

	Post October Loss Deferred	Post October Currency Loss

To the extent the Funds realize future net capital gains; those gains will be offset by any unused capital loss carryover.

FIN 48 requires the Funds to analyze all open tax years. Open tax years are those years that are open for examination by the relevant income taxing authority. As of February 28, 2009, open Federal and state income tax years include the tax years ended August 31, 2005, August 31, 2006, August 31, 2007 and August 31, 2008. The Funds have no examination in progress.

The Funds have reviewed all open tax years and concluded that the adoption of FIN 48 resulted in no effect to the Fund's financial positions or results of operations. There is no tax liability resulting from uncertain income tax positions taken or expected to be taken on the tax return for the fiscal year-end August 31, 2005, August 31, 2006, August 31, 2007 and August 31, 2008. The Funds are also not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax expense will significantly change in twelve months.

n) Credit Facility – U.S. Bank, N.A. has made available to the Funds a credit facility pursuant to a Line of Credit Agreement ("Line of Credit") for meeting redemption requests. Borrowings under the Line of Credit are charged at prime rate less 1/2%. The Funds did not utilize the credit facility for the six months ended February 28, 2009.

o) Guarantees and Indemnifications – In the ordinary course of business, the Funds enter into contracts that contain a variety of indemnification provisions pursuant to which the Funds agree to indemnify third parties upon occurrence of specified events. The Fund's maximum exposure relating to these indemnification agreements is unknown. However, the Funds have not had prior claims or losses in connection with these provisions and believe the risk of loss is remote.

p) Use of Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

In addition, the Adviser has entered into sub-advisory agreements with Horizon Capital Management, Inc. for the HCM Freedom Fund, with Portfolio Strategies, Inc. for the PSI Core Strength Fund, the PSI Macro Trends Fund and the PSI Total Return Fund, and with Hundredfold Advisors, LLC for the Spectrum Select Alternative Fund, the Spectrum Global Perspective Fund and the Spectrum Equity Opportunity Fund (the "Sub-Advised Funds") whereby the sub-advisor will direct investment activities of the Sub-Advised Funds. For the six months ended February 28, 2009, the Adviser voluntarily agreed to pay all operating expenses (excluding dividends on short positions), in excess of the annual cap on expenses presented below as applied to each Fund's average daily net assets. The Adviser may change, or end, this voluntary waiver at any time. The Adviser may recover from the Sub-Advised Funds the expenses paid in excess of the annual cap on expenses for the three previous years, as long as the recovery does not cause the Fund to exceed such annual cap on expenses. 8. SUMMARY OF FAIR VALUE DISCLOSURE

In September 2006, FASB issued Standard No. 157, Fair Value Measurement ("FAS 157") effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. FAS 157 clarifies the definition of fair value for financial reporting, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosure about the use of fair value measurements in an effort to make measurements of fair value more consistent and comparable. The Funds have adopted FAS 157 effective September 1, 2008. A summary of the fair value hierarchy under FAS 157 is described below.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels listed below:

Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2 – Other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment spreads, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3 – Significant unobservable inputs (including Fund's own assumptions in determining fair value of investments)

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the credit risk associated with investing in those securities.

The following is a summary of the inputs used to value each Fund's net assets as of February 28, 2009:

Description	HCM Freedom Fund
	Investments in Securities	Other Financial Instruments*

* Other financial instruments are derivative instruments not reflected in the Schedule of Investments, such as written options, futures and swap contracts. Futures and swap contracts are valued at the unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on the instrument.

9. NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENT

In March 2008, FASB issued its Statement on Financial Accounting Standards No. 161, “Disclosures about Derivatives Instruments and Hedging Activities” (“FAS 161”). This standard is intended to enhance financial statement disclosure for derivative instruments and hedging activities and enable investors to understand: a) how and why a fund uses derivatives instruments, b) how derivatives instruments and related hedge items are accounted for, and c) how derivative instruments and related hedge items affect a fund’s financial position, results of operations and cash flows. FAS 161 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008. As of February 28, 2009, management does not believe the adoption of FAS No. 161 will impact the financial statement amounts; however, additional footnote disclosures may be required about the use of derivative instruments and hedge items.
